

Ram Raid Protection Gate

Roller shutter protection

The Ram Raid Protection Gate has been designed to sit behind a roller shutter door and provides protection in a number of ways.

Once locked in place, the structure resists the direct impact of a vehicle and helps maintain the integrity of the shutter slats, driving any attempt to break through the shutter to above the gate height.

The gate acts as a secondary skin to the shutter door making cutting through the shutter much more difficult and time consuming.

In addition to the anti-ram protection, the locking feet engage with the base of the shutter to prevent the shutter being forced upwards.

Proven security

The gates have been deployed on sites with a number of these reporting the foiling of ram raid attacks on their roller shutters with some sites reporting the stopping of multiple attacks.
